

God is so fair that He created us with the right to make our own choices. He could have made us all like robots, but that would not be fair. He wants us to choose. Which will you choose, good or bad choices?

How many robots can you count?
Can you trace the squares in the robots?