

HELL

Many people don't believe in heaven, or hell.
Does that mean that heaven and hell don't exist?

Suppose someone told you that the earth was flat. Would that make it really flat? Suppose lots and lots of people told you that the world was flat as a pancake. Would that make the world really flat as a pancake? No, of course not. You can't change something true into something that was not true. Just by believing it wouldn't make it true.

Imagine it, the sky might be blue one day and pink the next. It would all depend on what people wanted to believe that day.

Jesus believed in hell, and so did the Old Testament prophets.

Here are some verses for you to look up:

HELL WAS MADE FOR THE DEVIL - NOT FOR YOU!
